

How safe are your electrics?

It is often the parts of our property which we cannot see that can cause us problems in the future and our electrics are no exception.

With our electrical wiring, continual use can lead to degradation and eventually failure.

This is why you should contact Livingstone Electrics who are a one stop shop for all your electrical needs.

Matthew Livingstone who owns and runs the business is proud to have been chosen as the Student Apprentice of the Year at Camborne College in 2009.

Since they were first established, they have built up an enviable reputation for the quality of their work which is very much to their credit.

The company have a wide customer base throughout Newquay and beyond. They are specialists in both domestic and commercial installations and maintenance.

Being a NAPIT approved contractor you can be assured their work is carried out to the highest standards.

For home owners, landlords and commercial customers, they will carry out full electrical inspections, periodic checks, as well as rewires and portable appliance testing. No job is too big or too small.

The company aim to offer homeowners and businesses a complete and fair service and their customers can have complete peace of mind in all the work they carry out.

They regularly undergo reviews to ensure they are fully aware of the latest changes within the industry and are always working within these guidelines.

If you have a problem with your electrical circuits, or maybe you are buying an older property, then you should contact Livingstone Electrics and ask them to carry out a full inspection.

They can provide maintenance and installation services and will design and install the correct solution for your needs.
